The Modern Social Conflict 2008 this book is divided into three sections entitled critical harm reduction policy from oppositional social movement to institutionalised public health policy part one encompasses a diverse array of issues relating to the cost benefit analysis of harm reduction as measured in the terms of institutionalisation and de politicisation part two critical harm reduction practice autonomy ideology and evidence based interventions consists of several concrete case studies concerning harm reduction practice in an array of non traditional contexts comprised of a unique series of chapters that each interrogates a different issue relating to the philosophical underpinnings of harm reduction part three is entitled critical harm reduction theory philosophy depoliticisation direct action and drug service users experiential knowledge although the emphasis of each section and corresponding set of chapters is remarkably diverse several themes remain prominent throughout this book including an overtly critical analysis of the multiplicity of contextual deployments of harm reduction a recurring focus on elevating the value of experiential knowledge and the fundamentally important central role of people with direct lived experience additionally the centrality of direct action tactics in the innovation of user based forms of harm reduction in policy practice and philosophically based contexts are discussed

Contemporary Conflict Resolution 2005-12-08 this book introduces root narrative theory a new approach for narrative analysis decoding moral politics and for building respect and understanding in conditions of radical disagreement this theory of moral politics bridges emotion and reason and rather than relying on what people say it helps both the analyst and the practitioner to focus on what people mean in a language that parties to the conflict understand based on a simple idea the legacy effects of abuses of power the book argues that conflicts only endure and escalate where there is a clash of interpretations about the history of institutional power providing theoretically complex but easy to use tools this book offers a completely new way to think about storytelling the effects of abusive power on interpretation the relationship between power and conceptions of justice and the origins and substance of ultimate values by locating the source of radical disagreement in story structures and political history rather than in biological or cognitive systems root narrative theory bridges the divides between reason and emotion realism and idealism without losing sight of the inescapable human element at work in the world s most devastating conflicts this book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies and international relations as well as to practitioners of conflict resolution discursive structures and must be addressed as such this implies the need for systemic change at generative levels in order to create genuine transformation at the level of particular conflicts central also to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary or situational small scale or micro level as well as bigger and more systemic or macro level micro level changes involve shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people such transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inwards to more micro levels this book engages this transformative framework within this framework this book pulls together current work that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in local community regional environmental and global conflicts in various parts of the world the resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and experiences from the field of practice the book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches as well as transformative techniques and processes including narrative dialogic critical cultural linguistic conversation analytic discourse analytic and rhetorical this book makes a valuable contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines and people on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically

Reconciliation in Conflict-Affected Communities 2019-02-11 the life course of serious and violent youth grown up addresses significant gaps in the literature on youth involved in chronic serious and violent offending through longitudinal research and a long follow up into adulthood it challenges common perceptions about offending outcomes using theoretically grounded methodologically sophisticated and empirically driven research this book culminates 20 years of data emerging from the incarcerated serious and violent young offender study isvyos initiated in 1998 to understand the origins of serious and violent youth offending it follows 1 719 formerly incarcerated youth through adulthood and offers a contemporary perspective to questions about chronic offending in adolescence and social and offending outcomes in adulthood the authors provide a theoretically framed examination of new findings from the isvyos regarding participants justice system involvement from onset to persistence to desistance most participants experienced continued involvement in the justice system in adulthood however contrary to past literature isvyos findings challenge static descriptions of chronic offending and notions of the youth super predator isvyos findings also challenge assertions that experiences and risk factors in childhood and adolescence are not informative of adult justice system involvement together the findings call for a more humanistic approach that recognizes that the complex lives of individuals formerly incarcerated in adolescence implies that desistance does not happen by default this book will be of great interest to scholars researchers and students of forensic psychology developmental and life course criminology youth justice and violent crime

Conflict Dialogue 2006-06-28 this book uses empirical evidence from various case studies to examine the relationship between territorial and regional autonomy the nation state and ethnic conflict resolution in south and south east asia the concept of territorial or regional autonomy holds centre stage in the literature on ethnic conflict settlement because it is supposed to be able to reconcile two paradoxical objectives the preservation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of the state and the satisfaction of ethnic minorities right to national self determination critics argue however that autonomy may not be the panacea for ethnic conflict in all cases the contributing authors begin with the concept of territorial or regional autonomy and subject it to a rigorous empirical analysis which provides reliable evidence regarding the suitability of the autonomy solution to intractable ethnic conflicts

drawing upon case studies from kashmir assam sri lanka aceh mindanao and southern thailand this edited volume argues that autonomy arrangements may at best work to resolve only a handful of separatist ethnic conflicts in south and south east asia this book will be of much interest to students of south and south east asia asian security ethnic conflict peace studies and ir in general

The Life-Course of Serious and Violent Youth Grown Up 2021-06-30 some of the 2023-06-27 7/11 childrens literature a very short introduction

bloodiest conflicts occur on the african continent an afrocentric perspective is therefore a suitable starting point for research into the possible strategies for post conflict peacebuilding the authors of this book consider the problems around the concept of post conflict and the blurring of military and civilian roles analysing the un roles in the drc and sierra leone as well as the african union mission in burundi the main context of the book however is the south african army s strategy for pcrd in africa which was developed with the african union s 2006 post conflict reconstruction and development needs assessment guide in mind this book emanates from this plan it therefore also explores south africa s policy imperatives to integrate development projects and peace missions involving the military as well as civilian organisations while this book is not intended as an instruction manual it hopes to ignite an understanding of the particular processes required to develop a sustainable and cohesive post conflict peacebuilding strategy within the african environment

Fischer's Sum and Substance Audio on Conflict of Laws, 4th (CD) 2007-01-01 events in the post cold war era have challenged the notions of realism and realpolitik with an upsurge in intrastate conflicts involving other actors than just the state during this period the international community has witnessed the limitations of the tenets of realism for addressing disastrous civil wars or ethno political conflicts internal to the states largely because of this and alongside the emerging field of conflict resolution in western countries transitional conflict resolution mechanisms emerged with characteristic multi track diplomacy orientations for solving national problems within african countries by the end of the 1980s and early 1990s several african countries including south africa burundi and sierra leone resorted to either a truth and reconciliation commission or an international tribunal to handle violence and restore peace and justice in the same period other african countries opted for what was called national conference to solve their national problems and transform conflict into an opportunity for structural change in february 1990 the republic of benin a small nation state in west africa achieved peace through a national conference the national conference in benin was a national gathering for crisis resolution through social debates on critical issues facing the nation and political decision making for constructive changes as a pioneer benin led the political change movement of the national conference and was later followed by eight other african countries namely chad congo brazzaville gabon mali niger togo the central african republic and the former zaire now known as the democratic republic of congo to date most of the existing literature on the subject explores the phenomenon of national conference as something of a prelude to political transition to multipartyism and democracy part of the literature depicts the national conference as a civil coup d etat and recommends its institutionalization as a system for democratic transitions this book takes a different approach by conceptualizing the national conference phenomenon as a multi track diplomacy tool or as a process for conflict transformation and peacemaking building upon theories of conflict and conflict resolution the author analyzes the national conference as a unique diplomatic approach to transforming national crisis which expands the scope of strategies for peacemaking

Autonomy and Ethnic Conflict in South and South-East Asia 2013-05-20 recognition is a fundamental aspect of all social interactions between individuals groups local communities and sovereign states recognition refers to those sociological processes whereby two or more entities such as states groups such as ethnic or cultural communities or individuals interact with one another and come to understand themselves and the other as mutually free individuals as social agents whose identities interests and outlooks are equally bound together without the foundational act of recognition relations can become unequal and antagonistic leading to social pathologies denigration and even open conflict this volume

brings together leading international scholars of recognition theory in world politics to discuss the potential for recognition to pacify relations between states groups and individuals and to develop recognition processes in the global community it examines the implications of recognition theory in helping to understand the problem of conflict and the possibilities for forging a form of global ethical community this book was published as a special issue of global discourse

The European Union as a Global Conflict Manager 2012 as cold war battle lines are seemingly re drawn russia s various frozen war zones ongoing separatist conflicts are often cited as particularly volatile and assumed by some western commentators and policymakers to be next on putin s wish list but as helena rytövuori apunen demonstrates here this is a gross and dangerous oversimplification that will only serve to fuel the vicious circle of reciprocal military escalation drawing on a range of empirical research and across separatist conflicts in georgia south ossetia and abkhazia moldova transnistria and gagauzia and azerbaijan nagorno karabakh and the 2014 annexation of crimea from ukraine her timely book provides a balanced assessment and critique of the assumptions and misunderstandings that inform mainstream discussions as well as placing the conflicts in their proper and complex historical contexts at a time when there is an increasing tendency to view russia as the source of all instability in eastern europe power and conflict in russia s borderlands is essential reading for anyone interested in the geopolitics of post soviet russia as well as policymakers and practitioners of peace conflict resolution studies

The Complete Adult Psychotherapy Treatment Planner 2014-01-28 this book investigates the decision making process rationale and determining factors which underlie the strategic shifts of armed movements from violent to nonviolent resistance the revival of global interest in the phenomenon of nonviolent struggle since the 2011 arab spring offers a welcome opportunity to revisit the potential of unarmed resistance as an alternative pathway out of armed conflicts in cases where neither military or counter insurgency nor negotiated solutions have succeeded this volume brings together academics from various disciplinary traditions and offers a wide range of case studies including south africa palestine and egypt through which to view the changes from violence to nonviolence within self determination revolutionary or pro democracy struggles while current historiography focuses on armed conflicts and their termination through military means or negotiated settlements this book is a first attempt to investigate the nature and the drivers of transitions from armed strategies to unarmed methods of contentious collective action on the part of non state conflict actors the text concentrates in particular on the internal and relational factors which underpin the decision making process from a change of leadership and a pragmatic re evaluation of the goals and means of insurgency in the light of evolving inter party power dynamics to the search for new local or international allies and the cross border emulation or diffusion of new repertoires of action this book will be of interest to students of security studies peace and conflict studies political sociology and ir in general
